"The South 40" by JAMES A. SMITH EXTENSION AGENT

Across the nation each summer weekly newspapers carry pictures and stories of the largest, tallest or biggest garden product. This is good.

There's a lady by the name of Jane Grace, proprietor of Grace's Gardens in Hackettstown, N.J., who collects data on unusual fruits and vegetables for inclusion in the Guinness Book of World Records. She also publishes a catalog of unusual seeds and offers an annual $1000 as a "Beat the Champ Awards."

You'll be interested in some of the records. An Oregon grower produced a 135 pound banana squash. In North Carolina there was a 39 pound canteloupe and the same grower had a 197 pound watermelon. From Wisconsin came a 6½ pound tomato. A 44 inch Armenian cucumber from Indiana. The longest straight gourd grew in Ohio, a Snake Longissima variety measured 80¼ inches. The heaviest gourd weighed 185 pounds and grew in Ohio. A California grower had the largest lemon, measuring 28¾ inches in circumference. The heaviest orange came from Arizona, weighing 3 pounds 11 ounces. Then there was the heaviest squash weighing 513 pounds -- a Hungarian Mammoth grown in Indiana. A Florida sweet potato weighed 22½ pounds. Finally a New Mexico producer came up with a 13½ inch long pepper.

These records aren't used to discourage anyone, but to simply say next year -- beat the champ.

The Lynchburg Yearling Sale was outstanding. It was good to hear producers say as they walked out, "Boy, that was a good sale." It's been a long time.

Top pen of steers brought $69.50 and top heifers were $60.75. Steers average $63.74 per CWT. The heifers averaged $57.32 per hundred.

A total of 976 steers and 253 heifers were marketed.

The junior bulls at Red House went on test yesterday.

The Amherst calf sale is next Friday, September 29.

An outstanding educational event will take place Tuesday, October 3, on the Ed Anderson Farm at 5 p.m. We'll give you an opportunity to see how to use growth implants, how to worm, vaccinate -- treat for grubs and other important jobs at this season of the year. A meal will follow -- this is a program for managers of cow-calf herds.

For more than two years Rumensin has been used in feed lot cattle to increase gains. Recently FDS approved the use of Rumensin for cattle on pasture weighing more than 400 pounds.

It may not be fed dairy animals, beef breeding herds and it is toxic to horses.

Get the calves dropped near the same time -- when they reach 400 pounds, creep feed Rumensin -- they must get at least one pound of feed containing 90 to 400 milligrams of Rumensin per day.

Weight gains are increased 10% or about 0.2 lbs. per day. The Rumensin costs about 1c per day. It's estimated that Rumensin can pay on the average a net return of $10 for every dollar spent.

New Office Quarters For District Extension Office

By Becky Moore

The smiling faces in the photograph above are a definite indication that the ladies enjoy the new office quarters into which the VPI&SU East Central District Extension Office recently moved. The offices are new, however, the three secretaries are bringing a combined total of 39 years of secretarial experience to their new quarters - l. to r., Janice Bryant, 5 years; Shirley Torrence, 23 years; and Nancy Conner, 11 years. The Area Extension Office moved their office location from the Old Harware Building on Main Street to the newly-constructed Courtland Building located on Court Street opposite the Appomattox Court House on July 1. This office is one of six Area Extension Offices located throughout the state, and is the administrative office for 19 counties, 2 cites, Holiday Lake 4-H Center, and the East Central Farm Management Unit. Administration of personnel matters and supervision of educational programs offered by the VPI&SU Extension Service are the prime functions of the District Office. State leadership is provided by the State Extension Offices located at VPI&SU, Blacksburg, and Virginia State College, Petersburg.

The new office complex is headquarters for the following district staff personnel as well as the secretaries pictured above: Dr. Charles R. Perkins, District Agent; Bruce A. Little, Program Leader, Agriculture; Miss Mary Hille McCoy, Program Leader, Family Resources; Charles A. Elliott, Program Leader, 4-H; Henry C. Moore, Jr., Program Leader for Community Resource Development and Technical Resources; and S. B. Waddell who serves as Coordinator for the East Central District Farm Management Program.

Devils Edge Raiders 20-19

The Raiders hopes for a Seminole District title were jolted Friday night when the Rustburg Red Devils scored twice in the closing minutes defeating the Appomattox team 20 - 19 in Bragg Stadium.

Statistics in the game were very close with Rustburg getting 323 yards total offense and Appomattox 314 yards. The Raiders had the edge in rushing yardage 175 to 168, however the Devils Ken Anthony completed 6 of 12 passes for 155 yards compared to Joe Fraley's 8 of 17 for 139 yards.

Jones and Lewis handled most of the ball carrying chores for Rustburg gaining 86 and 72 yards respectively.

Terry Woods carried 17 times for the Raiders and picked up 89 yards followed by Andrew Kelso, (15 carries, 46 yards) and Fraley, (5 carries, 24 yards). The Raider defense was led by Ronnie Abernathy and Myron McCoy.

The Raiders missed an opportunity to score in the first period when Freddie Mitchell's field goal attempt barely missed after Rustburg held on three Raider running plays inside the 10 yard line. The Raiders got on the board moments later when Schrock made an outstanding catch between two Devil defenders and scored on a Fraley pass play covering 73 yards. Mitchell kicked the PAT. Terry Woods scored the other Raider TDs on runs of 1 and 2 yards. Both kicks failed.

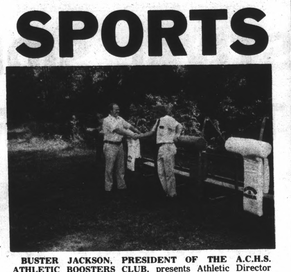
With time running out in the fourth period and Appomattox leading 19 to 7, Rustburg stacked the line and managed to block a Kenny Wayne Burks punt with Lewis picking up the loose ball and scoring from the 15. An onside kick failed but Rustburg held the Raiders forcing another punt. After an official's time out for an injured player, Anthony found Jones near the end zone and completed a 63 yard pass play for the final Rustburg touchdown. Try for a two point conversion failed but the Devils already had enough to win.

The Raiders suffered injuries to several key players. David Baxter received a broken bone in his hand, Steve Cobb a fractured clavical and probably will be out for the seasonByron Roach, slight concussion and jamed neck muscle. Joe Fraley suffered an injury to his left shoulder early in the second period and had limited use of his left arm but remained in the contest on offense.

Scoring:

Appomattox: Schrock 73 pass from Fraley (Mitchell kick); Woods 1 run (Kick failed); Woods 2 run (Kick failed).

Rustburg: Lewis 1 run (Kick good); Lewis 15 run (Kick good); Jones 63 pass from Anthony (run failed).



BUSTER JACKSON, PRESIDENT OF THE A.C.H.S. ATHLETIC BOOSTERS CLUB, presents Athletic Director Jerry Robinson with a seven man training sled to be used in football practice. The red, white and blue padded sled cost the club approximately eleven hundred dollars. The organization also contributed some twenty five hundred dollars toward the new lights for the athletic field, constructed the new ticket booths and voted to purchase some new uniforms for the school. President Jackson invites you to join in this worthwhile effort.

Midgets 14- Buckingham 0

The Midgets of Appomattox remain undefeated and unscored on as they shutout Buckingham 14 to 0 on little league action at Buckingham Saturday.

Fullback Kevin Kendrick put Appomattox on the scoreboard in the first quarter with a 22 yard gallop on an end sweep. Halfback Lonnie Hamlett ran for the two point conversion and the Midgets led 8 - 0.

In the second period Wilton Elliott scored on pass from Paul Johnson with the play covering 35 yards. The extra point try failed and the Midgets had a lead of 14 - 0 at the half.

The second half was all defense with neither team able to push the ball over for a score. The Midget defense was led by Tony Mann, Mike Ferguson, Leon Moore, Curtis Pearson and Phil Bollinger.

Paul Johnson played an excellent game at Quarterback and the Midgets also got a good effort from Russell Walton and Anthony Browder in the backfield and Tim Mullins and Troy Roope on the line.

All 24 team members played in the game. The second team offense, led by Darrell Conner, looked good in the 4th quarter.
